Pakistan under terror of un-condemned evil

Lahore has been again under attack today. Along with this many terrorist attacks has taken place in this unfortunate country of Pakistan. For world it might be bizarre but for Pakistan now they are like ordinary events.

This has given Pakistan an exotic entity. Almost everyday terrorists manage to dart through our government and fulfill their plans.

One can blame intelligence agencies and government for their ineffectiveness in anticipating terrorist attacks that are repeated in same pattern and almost on same targets but I will rather give self-critical view of the whole scenario.

What is it that makes these terrorists so sure and confident about themselves?

It's simple. We do!

It is our ignorance of realizing the real threat we hold from these terrorist. Most of the Pakistani seems to lack this understanding. This act of ignorance gives these terrorist a psychological edge to justify their acts which they do in sacred name of GOD as we justify it as a socio-political outcome or, of course, a wild conspiracy by our many (largely imagined) enemies lingering on our borders.

The TV Channels and drawing rooms might sensationalize the issue for a day or two but few wise man reflects as to what has happened to their country and its people.

Instead they flex their fake muscles and sharpen their non existent teeth.

Amazingly as our politicians, media and civil and religious society get together to mourn against the corruption and begging of our government, we easily forget the most fatal threat of terrorism that we are facing.

But it is not the distracted effort of these people but rather the denial of Pakistanis that is strengthening the extremists.

This extremism is logical spread by CIA through the channel of Arab petro-dollars and through the assistance of local intelligence agency ISI. There is no doubt about the role of these agencies in gathering the fighters in the name of so called "Afghan Jihad" in 1980s. A string of radical Islamic scholars, state-owned media and madressahs were to foster number of young Muslims for this purpose.

SEMESTER FALL 2009

More dangerous was an affect that it left of non extremist Pakistanis. Where on one hand we see an aggression against mainstream corrupt politicians like Nawaz Sharif and Zardari on the other hand we see silence against the issue of extremism. Majority stays neutral against the issue of suicide bombing or at most condemns it delicately. No wonder that most Pakistani think about terrorism as their secondary issue. Some Pakistanis feel that criticizing these terrorists are like criticizing Islam while other takes it as a plot to destabilize Pakistan.

Whom should we blame remains a question for a Pakistani. Where on one hand condemning these extremist will be the favor of Zardari and U.S. while the illusion of fake picture of Islam that is being showed over years left most Pakistanis suffering from and subdued by extremism and terrorism.

What past and present government represents is only the part of establishment. They can be targeted and criticized but extremism stands apart. So in all extremists are being fed on the common aspect of denial that most of Pakistanis show. They are not widely appreciated but they are rather associated with agencies like CIA and RAW.
